

Deschutes Land Trust

Confidentiality Statement and Agreement

In the course of your volunteering, you may have access to confidential information regarding the Deschutes Land Trust, its employees, donors, members, Board members, and perhaps customers, as well as issues and strategies of Land Trust work. You are responsible for safeguarding confidential information obtained in connection with your volunteering, and you are not to disclose any such information unless you have explicit permission. In accordance with this Confidentiality Statement, any breach of confidentiality will not be tolerated, and the Land Trust may pursue legal action against any individual who fails to uphold this policy.

I do hereby acknowledge that I have reviewed the Deschutes Land Trust's Confidentiality Statement. I agree to adhere to these policies for the duration of my time with the Land Trust, and to continue to adhere to the Confidentiality Policies indefinitely, even after dissolution of the relationship.